NEW YORK, 8; ST. LOUIS, 4—MORNING GAME.

St. LOUIS, July 4.—Nearly 5,000 persons withessed the morning gamo between the Browns and the New Yorks, at Sportsman Park. Davis and Kelly were the battery for the visitors and Brotten stein. Hawley, and Peitz for the Browns. The visitors won because they had their Independence Day war clubs with them and hit the ball hard. In the third inning the Browns scored two. Breitenstein got to first on balls. Dowd's safe but got the batter to first, and he advanced to second on Brodie's sacrifice. Baunon struck out. Shugart's single scored Breitenstein and Dowd. Peitz struck out. Hawley was then put in to do the pitching.

New York scored four. Davis flew out to Dowd. Connor singled. Kelly singled. Both scored on Burke's two-bagger to left. Burke scored on Lyon's three-bagger. Lyons scored on Doyle's single to left. The game continued to the finish with little show for the Browns to rally and forge ahead. The visitors kept hammering out a hit here and there and getting a rup now and then, until the total reached sight, which was a larger number than they needed. The score: NEW YORK, 8; ST. LOUIS, 4-MORNING GAME.

By. LOUIS, July 4.—It was in the afternoon that the Browns riayed bail of the 24-carat quality. Breitenstein wont into the box again, and this time he went in to stay. He had his fourth of July wizard arm with him. Ho let the visitors have two safe hits, which process of gonly one run. His comrades showed their adpreciation of his good work by fielding superbly. The Browns reserved their fireworks until the last inning; then they touched off the whole bunch at once and made two runs, but these were all that were needed. Brodie and Shugart cach made a single, and both ran home when Peitz fired off a screaming two-bagger. The score:

CLEVELAND, July 4.—The Cleveland toam may be out of the pennant race if the injury to Capt. Tereau in to-day's game is as bad as it is reported to be. The chances are that he will not play another game this year, and Cleveland has no one to take his place. In sliding back to second base his leg was caught upder him and his knee thrown out of joint.
The morning game was a long-drawn-out affair, which the Clevelands would have won hands down but for the hurt to Tobeau in the sixth inning. It took the heart out of the players, and they were listle-se from that time on. Williams let a hit get away that would have saved the game for Cleveland, and Foutz got three bases on if. Stein was in miscratic form, and in the see and inning gaye live bases on balls in succession, forcing two runs over the plate. During the remainder of the game he was wild, and the Clevelands managed to hit him when they wante 1 c. Clarks on piche splendidy,

CLEVELAND, July 4.—The afternoon game, instead of being a walknway for Brocklyn, as everybody expected was just the other way. The Clevelands hammered Haddock's pitching all over the field, and kept not only the infielders, but the outlielders so busy that they became tired of chasing the ball. Stovey got so that it was all the could do to walk. It was the greatest exhibition of heavy batting that was over seen in Cleveland. The finest work of the game and one of the linest exhibitions at short that was ever given on any field was that of McKean. He had sixteen chances, and not one of his assists were easy. To him more than to any other one player tuppy owes his victory. McKean also batted the ball over the grounds have been occupied by the clus. The Brocklyns hit Cunpy hard, but, like the first game they played here, the Cleveland ritcher managed to keep the hits well scattered. The ground rule prevented more than two bases being made on a hit into the crowd, which accounts for the large number of two-base hite that were made by the members of both clubs.
